Purdy and Millard transformed me from stone,

And placed me here my permanent home.

I watch the people as they enter below,

Oh so busy as they to and fro.

Another statue like me in stone,

He waits and stares all alone.

See the one across the way,

He's gone no longer here to stay.

And now more and more empty spaces,

Does anyone care about our changing faces?

Project: Change

Program: Illustrator

My project was on the theme of change for city dwellers so I focused on a change in their lifestyle.
